To Whom it May Concern,

The following is a letter of recommendation on behalf of Diane Matson.

I have had the pleasure of working with Diane before, both as an actor and as an editor. Knowing her dedication to her gifts and her passion for the projects she works on, when I needed to cast a voice talent for a promotional book trailer, Diane was the first person who came to mind.

Diane not only came up with the unique idea of having a British accent for the narrator, but she offered to do the entire reading again once the piece was edited if better timing was needed.

Taking her up on this offer, with an extremely tight and looming deadline, Diane made herself available, on the due date, even though she was not feeling well. Being under the weather did not affect her performance or professionalism, and she did numerous reads to get the timing down just right.

Easy to direct and always a pleasure to work with.

Sincerely,

Julie Ruffell
